The University of Tennessee Equine and Canine Rehabilitation Certificate Programs (CERP and CCRP) are the only RACE approved and university based credential programs for rehabilitation education.

The CERP program begins with an online lecture series, followed by the live hands-on lab series you choose the location for, and afterwards the online case presentations and final exam.

The high standards for admission and the curriculum assure graduates that the CERP credentials are recognized as the premiere program in equine rehabilitation.

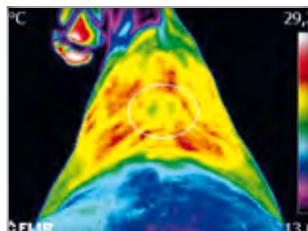

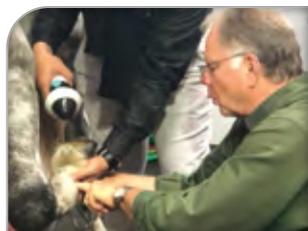

It is taught by world wide accredited speakers and includes active university instructors, expert clinicians and researchers. The curriculum draws from ongoing research, evidence based case studies, clinical experience, and availability of leading modalities in the fields of veterinary medicine.

As we all spend a very intensive time together, there is a lot of opportunity to discuss questions beyond the course hours. This makes this education so effective. We work in small groups during the labs. Thus this course combines theoretical knowledge, evidence based with a high impact of recent research and interactive on animal labs.

We are awarding each year the best research work of a ECVSMR resident in the field of canine and equine rehabilitation and sports medicine with the VAHL AWARD. With these 2 donations we actively try to support ongoing research.

I am looking forward to hearing from you.
Warm regards

Dr. Beate Egner
