

EARLY RECOGNITION AND INVESTIGATION OF ATYPICAL SIGNS

Improving recognition and management of all the manifestations of canine atopic disease, as well as other problems, especially in long-term patients.

AUTUMN DERMATOLOGY MEETING

11/12 OCTOBER 2025

Österreichische Gesellschaft
für Veterinärdermatologie

TIMETABLE SATURDAY

08.30 - 09.00 Registration

09.00 - 09.45 Diagnosis of canine atopic dermatitis (CAD)

09.45 - 10.30 Otitis externa and CAD

10:30 - 11:00 Coffee break

11.00 - 11.15 Dr. Daniela Fux: Management of canine atopic dermatitis: An update

Elanco

11.15 - 12.00 Client expectations and getting them involved

12.00 - 13.30 Lunch

13.30 - 14.15 Dr. Nina Gruber: The canine dermatology patient from a nutritional perspective

14.15 - 15.00 Keys that are important in long term control of AD

15.00 - 15.30 Coffee break

15.30 - 16.15 Diseases that can mimic CAD and complicate management

16.15 - 17.00 Cases Participants

18.00 Dinner

zoetis

JACOBY GM
PHARMA

TIMETABLE SUNDAY

09.00 - 09.45 Chronic otitis externa

09.45 - 10.30 Comparing some treatments

10.30 - 11.00 Coffee break

11.00 - 11.15 Dr. Regina Wagner: News from the lab

LABOKLIN
LABOR FÜR KLINISCHE DIAGNOSTIK GMBH & CO. KG

11.15 - 11.30 Mag. Michaela Klager: More than 10 years of experience: Things we have learned (Apoquel & Cytopoint)

zoetis

11.30 - 12.30 Atypical signs (ERIAS) in a new approach to General Practice

Speaker:

Craig Griffin, DVM

(Cornell University College of Veterinary Medicine)

Diplomate, American College of Veterinary Dermatology

Dr. Craig Griffin is a graduate of Cornell University and completed his residency at UC Davis in 1980. He is a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Dermatology (ACVD) and has served as a past president of the college as well as on its Board of Directors and examination committee. He also served as president of the American Academy of Veterinary Dermatology (AAVD) and of the Western States Veterinary Conference.

Dr. Griffin is a frequent lecturer and clinical instructor of veterinary dermatology in the US and internationally. He was an instructor, then course master in veterinary dermatology for the European School of Advanced Veterinary Medicine (1992 to 2020) and was instrumental in their expansion into Asia, where he still teaches. He is currently a Clinical Professor of Veterinary Medicine at Western University of Health Sciences. Dr. Griffin has published widely, including many articles and book chapters on small animal skin disease, and is a co-author of Muller and Kirks Small Animal Dermatology 5th-7th editions and coeditor of Current Veterinary Dermatology, The Science and Art of Therapy. Dr. Griffin's love for the profession and teaching was recognized when he received the ACVD Award for Excellence for outstanding contributions in veterinary dermatology in 2001 and the Frank Kral Award for Achievements in Veterinary Dermatology in 2014.

Dr. Griffin is the founder of Animal Dermatology Group, Inc. His dream to bring advance veterinary dermatology to pet owners has become a reality through his hard work and vision. He is proud to have started the ADG Resident Training Program, the first non-academic organization approved by the ACVD to provide a program preparing future board certified veterinary dermatologists. Through Dr. Griffin's dedication, along with the commitment of the ADG medical team, this has become one of the most successful veterinary dermatology training programs in the United States.

ADDITIONAL INFO

Hotel Friesacher

Hellbrunnerstr 17
5081 Anif

www.friesacher.com

Attendance fee:

Incl Proceedings, Lunch on Saturday and Coffee breaks on both days - plus Dinner on Saturday

€ 270,00

ÖGVD MEMBERS, STUDENTS AND
VETERINARY TECHNICIANS/NURSES

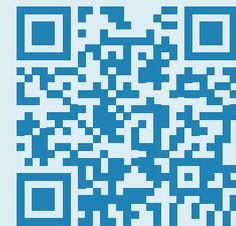

€ 330,00

NON-MEMBERS

Continuing education hours:

9 BS general
9 FTA Dermatology

Registration: www.oegvd.org

Our sponsors:

